ORDER ... Andrew Griffiths in Parliament.

Praise for Mail's donor campaign

THE Mail's campaign to boost the number of organ donors has been praised by Burton's MP during a debate in the Parliament.

Andrew Griffiths highlighted the impact made by the Take Five Minutes initiative as he made an impassioned plea for ministers to do more to encourage new donors to come forward.

Mr Griffiths said the Mail had done a 'huge amount' to raise awareness of the issue.

Homer Simpson in raid on store

Fancy dress thieves grab huge cash haul

APPEAL ... Eileen Banton.

EXCLUSIVE by Rob Smyth
rob.smyth@burtonmail.co.uk

A THIEF dressed as Homer Simpson was part of a gang who stole cash in a smash and grab raid at a supermarket.

Derbyshire Police are hunting for four men – one wearing a onesie designed to look like the popular cartoon character – who launched an early morning break-in at Sainsbury's Local, in High Street, Newhall, yesterday.

Three members of the gang forced their way into the store where they destroyed a self-service till before failing in a bid to steal hundreds of packets of cigarettes.

Now, police chiefs are pleading with witnesses to come forward.

Eileen Banton, crime reduction officer, said: "We hope that the distinctive attire of one of the thieves will help someone come forward with information that will help us catch those responsible."
